Public Health Safety Recommendations for Retail Marijuana	Discussed Public Health Safety Recommendations provided by Oregon Coalition Prevention Professionals. Marty Silbernagel reviewed discussion from July’s meeting emphasizing the importance of solidifying recommendations to provide to board of commissioners. Matthew Stevenson clarified that recommendations are not mandates from the state and that county’s will be able to make their own decisions in marijuana policy reform. Beth Freese reviewed personal recommendations, each one were explored by attendees. Recommendations included licensing requirements including fees that could benefit enforcement efforts, consistent enforcement of adopted regulations, limiting hours of operation, and warning labels informing of THC properties. Other recommendations included not selling edibles or high THC products, no onsite sampling, price discounts, or on site consumption and no packaging considered appealing to youth. Members of the committee voted and the decision was made to move forward with recommending these seven practice measures to the board of commissioners.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Information/Discussion
