Polk County Wraparound

Wraparound is a care planning process for youth with mental health concerns and complex needs. Parents or guardians may request Wraparound services when counseling has not been enough to safely address serious concerns.

The youth and their family work with a Care Coordinator to select a Wraparound team. This team can include friends, relatives, teachers, and other professionals. The team is there to support the youth and family and help develop a plan to address needs and build on strengths.

Participation in Wraparound services is voluntary.
